MENETING OF THE ALDERMANIC COMMITTEE ON HEALTH YESTERDAY-THE PROTESTANTS AGAINST THE FIFTY-NINTH STREET ABATTOIR HAVE A HEARING.

The Aldermanic Committee on Health-Messrs. Uole, Blessing and Morris-met yesterday, 'to to give a hearing to all parties opposed to or in lavor of the establishment of an abattoir at the ing, in the absence of the Chairman, presided.

Mr. Delafield, a lawyer, who represented the interesis of the Roosevelt Hospital, was the first speaker. He said abattoirs were in every sense nuisances; and he read the protest sent to the Board of Health by the medical board of the hospital when that board had under consideration a health ordinance probibiting the slaughter-ing of cattle within the city limits, except in one vast abattoir. This protest, dated leth of March, 1874, contended that the establishment of an abattoir in Fifty-ninta street would be dangerous to the public health. The business of gut cleaning, fat boiling, &c., smitted terrible odors into the atmosphere, which spread all over the city. It was contended, said the speaker, that an abattoir could be erected which; by scientific appliances, would not be a nuisance. He doubted this. In all the great European cities abattoirs were placed on the outskirts, remote from dwelling places. Under a monarchical form of government they could be regulated by arbitrary regulations regardless of any law, but in this country that was impossible. Mr. Delafield asserted that among medical men there was but one opinion as to abattoirs, and that opinion was dead against them. He cited authorities as proofs of this assertion, among others the opinion of Professor Hartshorn, who contended that with all the appliances of science it was impossible to establish an abattoir that would not be a nuisance and a detriment to public health. Another proof cited was that given by the American Health Association, of Pulladelpnia, in an elaborate opinion, which asserted that abattoirs should always be built on tidewater and far away from any city. He dea unced the exception made by the Board of Health in their ordinance as to Fifty-ninth street. the locality was so near the Park and so inviting to persons who were anxious to erect elegant idences that the exception was, all things considered, a very ill advised one. He quoted from Bevan, of Chicago, to show that the death rate from thirty-seven modic diseases was always near a populated neighborhood. Mr. Delafield contended that if this was a fact an that if this was a fact abattoir in Fifty-ninth street would be very dam-aging to patients in the hospital, who were strivto recover from serious illness; and yet, he said, the Chicago abattoir was supposed to be the marks by declaring that some legislation ought to e devised to prevent the establishment of abatoirs within the city limits of New York. Sixtyave millions of dollars had been expended to corrected to prevent the establishment of abaticities within the city limits of New York. Sixty Sive millions or dollars had been expended to beautify that portion of the city west above Fortie'n street, which expense had been expended to beautify that portion of the city west above Fortie'n street, which expense had been patiently borne by the real estate owners, with the confidence that in time to come they would get a "supreme value" for their property. If an abattoir was to be established in the neighborhood sproperty would be depreciated. In answer to a question of Alderman Biessing, Mr. Deiafield said that he could not give a decided opinion as to whether or not the abattoir at the foot of West Inity-iourth street was a musance. It was under the charge of an eminent chemist, and, besides, the neighborhood was not the same as that of Fifty-mint street. If it was a musance it was already in existence. What the Fifty-ninth street people desired was that a fresh musance should not be established.

Rev. Alired Young, pastor of the Church of St. Paul the Apostic, in Fifty-ninth street, was the next speaker. He called altention to the fact that the Board of Health's itemse to the Thirty-fourth street abattoir was issued only last February and that in that establishment there was to be carried on, if the Board of Health was to be carried on, if the Board of Health was to be carried on the rendering boat was on the river as Thirty-fourth street the business of lat melting, grinding of bones, &c. Through several summers when the rendering boat was on the river as Thirty-fourth street the business of lat melting, grinding of bones, &c. Through several summers when the rendering boat was on the river as Thirty-fourth street the south windows on the third story of the residence of the Fathers had to be kept closed; and it looked very much now that they would have to safer again in the same way if under the same incense given the Thirty-fourth street establishment the work of rendering. Ac. was to be carrie point of view, if the abultoir was allowed, he said that about 5,000 persons had already, judging irom the blanks delivered for signature, petitioned the Board of Health against the granting of a per-from the blanks delivered for signature, petitioned the Board of Heath against the gracing of a permit for the abattor.

Processor Chandler, of the Board of Heath, staled that he did not appear by authority of the Health Board, but as a simple spectator. He said that there were now lifty-three slaughter-houses in the city. He contended that the consentrating of the slaughter business into the two or three abattors would enable the health inspectors to make an examination of the animals before they were slaughtered, which was an impossibility under the present system. It was quite easy, he said, to decide when an animal was alive whether it was nealthy or not; when it was killed and the meat cut up it was not always possible to tell whether the animal had been healthy before being killed. The question for the Health Board to decide was whether the public health would be endangered by the establishment of the abattor in Filty-minth street. It was not a question as to whether parties who had speculated no lots in Filty-minth street or elsewhere were to be losers by the establishment of an abattor in he neighborhood. It the rich would not live sear an abattor the poor would, and their interests would have to be looked after by the Board as well as the interests of the rich. He declined to give an opinion as to whether an acattor could be built go as not to be a nuisance, as that was the question the Health Board were now considering.

Professor John W. Draper, Jr., who is connected.

Professor John W. Draper, Jr., who is connected with the Thirty-fourth street Abattoir Company, explained at some length the proposed workings of the abattoir in Thirty-fourth street, for which a permit has already been granted, and argued to show that it would be in ho manner a nusance. The committee will meet again to-day at three P. M.

CHARITIES AND CORRECTION.

STAMPEDE FROM THE WORKHOUSE-BETTER

CARE OF LUNATICS. President Bailey, of the Department of Chari-ties and Correction. received yesterday a letter from Captain Gregory, of the Schoolship Mercury, dated March 16, from the port of Spain, Island of Trinidad. The Captain reports the death of Hugh McKinnon, aged seventsen, from intermittent fever, and sends a copy of very elaborate resolu-tions, which, he says, were "passed of the boys of the Schoolship," and which read as follows:

Whereas it has piessed Almighty God to call to His eternal abode our triond and snipmate. Hugh McKinmon: the refore, it is lessolved, what while we mourn the location one who enderged himself to all on board by his gentieness, zeal and upright, homorable conduct, yet we know that "He that ruleth the raying sea" and "noide h us in the hotlow of nis hand" has whiled it, and we how in submission, knowing that ite has called our shipmate

From earth to heaven, where all is lowe.

From earth to heaven, where all is love, To the blessed realms of fight above.

At are having risen among the young reprobates of the Schoolship.

At the meeting of the Commissioners of Charilles resterday the following resolution was passed, when looks to the better care of insane persons:—

Ordered that hereafter all lunance received at the new prisons and institutions in this department be transferred to the asjudic in conveyances under the care of an attendant, inseed of coing conveyed in the prison wan together with other prisoners.

President Bailey said yesterday that the official report in regard to the escapes from the Penitentiary on Sunday evening had not yet been received. He inought the watchman had acted with great pluck and foresight and deserved to be commended by the Board. Mr. Bailey stated also that the number of immates of the Workhouse had been reduced from 1,390 on the 1st of January to the present amail number of 600, which was build to two causes; in the first place, the weather was better and work more easy to procure, and, in the second place, the paupers had to work so much harder that they preferred to leave. As to the food, Mr. Bailey characterized it as decidedly "humble" and miscrotic that reieave. As to the food, Mr. Balley characterized it as decidedly "numble" and interior to that provided in the hospitals. He was asked as to the frequency of the supply of pate de fote gras or truffed turkeys, but said those choice dishes formed but farely part of the ments of the Work-house.

THE PUBLIC WORKS.

General Fitz John Porter said yesterday that the working force of the Department of Public Works had not yet been increased to any considerable extent. He stated also that the work of repairs on various streets in all parts of the city had been begun and would be pushed with all the vigor which the limited funds at his disposition would allow. However, the department, in prosecute all the works that were necessary to a proper condition of the streets, needed twice as much money as was now at its disposal. A good much money as was now at its discosal. A good many of the minor repairs on the streets now being made were under the class called "patching." by the officials of the department—namely, of damages from the frost, &c. The office of the department is still besieged by poor workingmen, whose pinched, worn laces attest their urgent need of employment.

Mr. J. H. Chambers, who was appointed Water Register, at a salary of $5,000 a year, on Friday, in place of Mr. Horatio N. Sherwood, resigned, was at his post yesterday. General Porter said that Tammany had nothing to do with this appointment.

MUNICIPAL NOTES.

The Mayor's visit to Albany on Sunday was the theme of discussion among the politicians about the City Hall yesterday. Although the Mayor, who put in an appearance at his office about two o'clock, refused to talk on the subject of the visit, the general impression prevailed that he and the Governor were at last in accord, and that, as was intimated in the HERALD resterday, the "home rule" policy will be allowed full swing in a week or two. A gentleman connected with the city government states positively that "things have been fixed." and that the Miller bill, lathered by Comptroller Green, will not find favor with the Governor's friends in the Assembly. It is asserted that the bill will suffer an overwhelming deleat when it comes up in the House in its regular

BURGLARS' DEPREDATIONS.

Captain Burden, of the Twelfth precinct, reported yesterday morning that burgiars had entered the clothing store of Louis Arnheim, No. 2,207 Third avenue, on Saturday night, and carried away forty coats, valued at about $240. The entrance was effected through the rear basement entrance was effected through the rear basement door. The burgiars then entered the store by custing through the floor.

On Saturday last burgiars concealed themselves in an unoccupied room of the lourth floor of the building No. 132 Maiden lane, occupied by Sanchez. Haya & Co., cigar manufacturers, and when the premises were vacated for the night they carried away $300 worth of revenue stamps and made their escape through an adjoining building.

The residence of Abraham May, No. 965 Second avenue, was entered by burgiars on Sunday morning, who stole $300 in currency and some articles of jewelry valued at $53.

On Saturday night the house of F. A. Goss, No. 740 Tenth avenue, was entered and piffered by robbers of $175 worth of clothing.

THE HOBOKEN BANK ROBBERY.

SECOND TRIAL OF KLENEN-TESTIMONY OF THE TREASURER.

Frederick Rienen, the detauiting Secretary of the Hoboken Savings Bank, was again placed on trial yesterday in the Court of Quarter Sessions at Jersey City. It will be remembered that the jury disagreed in the former trial.

Mr. Leon Abbett, counsel for the defence, chailenged the srray of jurors on the following grounds: -First, that Theophilus Butts, one of the Commissioners by whom the jurors had been se-lected, was or is interested in the bink from which it is alleged the money was taken; second, that the Commissioners of Jurors had been ap-pointed by the Court which is to try the present indictment; third, that the selection of jurors by the Jury Commission is unconstitutional and that the jurors ought to have been selected by the Sheriff of the county. The Court overruled the challenge.

Louis Huesman, treasurer of the bank, testified that on the 22d of April, 1872, he bought from Fisk & Hatch $110,000 registered and $30,000 coupon bonds; on January 7, 1873 he bought $20,000 coupon and $40,000 registered bonds; ten days afterward he purchased $150,000 registered bonds; the bonds purchased on January 7 he gave to Mr. Saepherd, who was then in the directors' room; this room was used by the officers of the Savings this room was used by the officers of the Savings Bank as well as by the officers of the First National Bank; there were twenty $100 coupons and four $10,000 registered bonds; Snepherd handed them to Klenen to take the numbers, &c.; witness saw no more of those bonds at that time; the bonds were generally kep: In the inner saie of the First National Bank; witness saw Klenen for the last time on the 5th of Abril examining the books, as was customary; something was said about a discrepancy of $1,000 on the books; Messrs, Butts, Crevier and Childs were with Klenen at the time; it was arranged that the examination should be resumed next morning, but Klenen did not appear; a few days after the first run on the bank, about the 14th of April, 1873, the witness soid $30,000 coupon bonds of those bought in 1872, and a few days later $40,000 or $50,000 registered bonds; also, in July or August, about $50,000, and in September $60,000 registered bonds. The witness was cross-examined very minutely. The case for the prosecution will probably be closed to-day.
